Women's Foundation Ball.

Under the auspices of the Women's National Foundation, a successful and beautiful ball was given last evening at the Willard which had added interest from the fact that it was the first of the season's grist of charity balls.

The presence of some of the distinguished visitors from overseas now gathered here in Washington constituted in lease measure to the suctributed in large measure to the success of the bail. Marshal Foch, the bright particular star, was accorded an enthusiastic welcome, the "Marseillaise" being played in his honor. The British Ambassador and Lady Geddes were present, and, with the great French soldier, were entertained in the "entente cordiale" box, set aside for the foreign delegates.

Above this were hung the flags of the nine nations represented at the parley. The visitors were further honored by the national groups, tipifying each country represented, which were included in "The Feast of Prosperity," the spectacular pageant, which was a feature of the ball.

Flags Form Decorations.

The giant flags with which the ballroom was hung struck the key-note of the decorations and were particularly effective against the biege walls. The ballroom has been newly decorated in tones of biege and tan, with the fluted pillars, once white, tinted dull gold; and parasol shaped shades veiling the ceiling lights contributed to the charming setting.

In the receiving line with Mrs. C. C. Calhoun, president of the Foun-dation, were the vice president, Mrs. James McDonald, Mrs. George Barnett, chairman of the ball commit-tee; Mrs. Sidney Ballou, Mrs. Victor
